Limited to 12 riders/handlers per session

Clinician: Jessica Cole. There will be trail obstacles set up for practice and familiarization.
All Horse and Pony and 4-H Rules apply

Riders/handlers may only enter one session

Beginner – horse/riders who have not shown in trail class before or are 1st or 2nd year project members with limited trail class experience. Horse/riders will work on developing skills such as forward, lateral, and backing movements through and around obstacles. The focus will be on improving confidence as a team while practicing common obstacles such as a bridge, gate, over poles, backing through poles and other obstacles while under saddle. This session would be appropriate for walk/trot participants.

Intermediate – horse/riders who have shown in trail before and who practice trail obstacles at home. Horse/riders should already be capable of forward, lateral, and backing movements through and around obstacles.

Advanced – horse/riders who have shown in trail class before, and who regularly practice using trail obstacles at home, and/or placed red or blue at the fair. Participants in this session will work on completing a pattern which requires more difficult forward, lateral and backing movements through and around obstacles.

Trail in-hand -- young horses and/or inexperienced handlers who need to develop confidence and skill working through and around obstacles on the ground. Participants who have never worked through obstacles with their animal should start in this session and not under saddle. Focus is to develop more confidence and skills to improve forward, lateral and backing movements from the ground.
