Madison has a plethora of restaurants, with highly celebrated chefs on the cutting edge of the farm-to-table dining and local foods movements and an amazing diversity of ethnic cuisines (grad students unable/uninterested to go back to their countries often open restaurants here). There are way too many great places to list here, so we've curated a selection of our favorites close to the conference location (no chains included), indicating the distance and how long it would take to walk there, to help you narrow down the myriad choices. If you have a bike or car, you have even more options. And we're not even addressing the fabulous craft beer scene...
