

Internationalizing Cooperative Extension Workshop

What does it mean to internationalize Cooperative Extension?
What are the issues and challenges?
What are the opportunities and benefits?
How can we develop a more global perspective for our Extension programming?

Date	September 17, 2004, 9 a.m.-3:45 p.m.
Location	Wintergreen Resort, Wisconsin Dells
Program	Introduction by Arlen Leholm, Dean/Director Keynote: What Does it Mean to be an International Organization? Binaya Subedi, Assistant Professor of Education Teaching and Learning, The Ohio State University Discussions about how to internationalize Wisconsin Extension Building an action plan for Cooperative Extension
Who	Participants (limited to 50) <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Those who have done international Extension work.• Those who are engaged in multicultural programming• Those who see a need to help the people they live and work with gain a better understanding of how global issues impact their communities.• The workshop will not prepare colleagues to do Extension work abroad, or offer resources for finding opportunities to do Extension work abroad.
Cost	Mileage and meals (also lodging on Sept. 16 for those further than 50 miles from Wisconsin Dells) is supported by International Mini-Grant Project, CSREES-USDA
Register	Registration deadline is Aug. 16. Numbers are limited by the size of the grant. Submitting your registration does not confirm your participation. You will receive final confirmation by Sept. 1. https://secure.uwex.edu/semtek/register/coop.cfm

Planning Committee: Tom Cadwallader (chair), Mary Crave , JoAnn Hinz, Karen Neilsen, Bill Pinkovitz, John Preissing, Ellen Taylor-Powell, Dave Thomas