

In 2010-2011, the JCMGV's worked on a number of projects.

The following are described in individual reports on the 2010-2011 Volunteerism Page:

Hoard Historical Museum in Fort Atkinson –MGs maintain multiple gardens, manage volunteers, and provide public education

Jefferson County Master Composters – certified Master Composters offer education on the topic

Jefferson, Rock River Community Garden – a joint project with the city of Jefferson

Jefferson, West Elementary School – a Butterfly Garden as an After School Program

Extension Office, Plant Health Advisors – answer questions from the public at the Extension Office during the growing season, publish Q&A columns in local paper

Fort Atkinson Police Department Landscaping – redesigned landscaping around the building

Fort Atkinson, St. Joseph Church – multiple activities on the grounds

Watertown, 1st Congregational Church – an award winning re-design

We also worked on projects at:

Rotary Park, Jefferson – this park is the city gathering place for outdoor events. MGs maintain planting beds throughout the park.

Jefferson County Fair –our MGs support judging, keep the exhibit areas presentable during the run of the fair, and answer visitor questions.

Old World Wisconsin – Several MGs are long-term volunteers in the public areas at this historic park – they grow ornamental plants from seed; plant and maintain the display gardens at the entrance, restaurant, and shop areas of the park; and answer visitor questions.

Several Lake Mills parks – a MG maintains gardens in the public areas
