Gardening Project: 2014 Jefferson Public Library

Report from Sue S. 10/21/14

Still planting perennials for all summer/fall color. Started planting hostas in the semicircle bed behind benches.

Keeping everything watered remains a challenge. Also, lost two mums to insects.

The most rewarding part of my project is the people who stop to thank me for the pretty flowers and to ask questions about the plants.

The library does not donate anything except for water, and a hose. I bought the annuals and perennials.

I am the only MGCV that works on this project. I put in 10.5 hours this past year.
