

Milwaukee County Extension Moved

We are excited to announce that the Milwaukee County University of Wisconsin Cooperative Extension office has moved to its new location! Our new office is at 6737 W. Washington St., Room 2202. West Allis, WI 53214 in the Summit Place office complex.

- Betsy Vokac, Program Assistant (414) 615-0518
- Susan Taylor, Diagnostic Services Coordinator (414) 615-0516

Our phone numbers have changed. Our new main phone number is 414-615-0550. For a full list of our new numbers visit our online directory at <https://milwaukee.uwex.edu/about-us/staff-directory/>

- Laura Herzog, Volunteer Coordinator (414) 615-0517

Personal Comments from Staff

From Laura Herzog, "In March, I was given the opportunity to open the door to begin a new chapter of my life as the SouthEast Wisconsin Master Gardener Volunteer Coordinator. A couple of months later, a door opened to our new location. I have enjoyed every step of the path and am looking forward to continuing to serve the SEWMG volunteers."

From Betsy Vokac, "We've heard that the Milwaukee County UW-Extension office has moved many times, but this was the first move for the three of us! The dust is settling, the phones work and we're more than glad to be back supporting SEWMGs."

From Susan Taylor, "To quote Bob Dylan, 'the times they are a-changin.'" The UWEX-Milwaukee County office has changed locations, but we are still here to support SEWMGs! "

2018 and 2019 Plant Sales

by MGV Diane Thieme

Our 23rd Annual Plant Sale has come and gone. Mother Nature decided number 23 should be a challenging one. Rain, cold, and SNOW made plants reluctant to show themselves until late April. Digging plants had to be delayed, plants were smaller, and some (especially hostas) never appeared in time to be dug. The result was about 2,000 fewer plants to sell and smaller, lower-priced plants. Thankfully, Klehm's Song Sparrow was able to provide a good number of plants from their fund raiser support program, and Jerry Nelson was kind enough to donate hundreds of colorful annuals.

Although Pot-A-Thons (PAT) were generally cold and rainy, we averaged about 40 very hard-working volunteers at each PAT. They were able to work under the tents that Phil Mainwaring and Mark Pawlak lent us. The volunteers were able to pot up almost 15,000 plants!

Plant Sale Week had a different set of challenges. Due to jumping worms in the DNR area, we had to create an entirely different layout. That required fencing rental to secure the new area but resulted in a much larger space for shopping. During prep week, dozens of volunteers contended with unseasonably high heat each day. There were lots of very red, sweaty faces on volunteers who towed sleds full of plants to new locations on the more spacious grounds. While the new layout meant many more steps for volunteers, it proved to be a very positive change for customers. Crowding during shopping was minimal, check-out lines were far easier to maneuver with full sleds, and the education area was much more accessible to customers.

In addition to plant donations, we also received generous donations of tote bags from Educators Credit Union and plastic trays from Cargill Meat Solutions. These donations allowed us to save hundreds of dollars on the number of large cardboard boxes we had to buy. We are so grateful for all our community support!

Despite our new challenges, the sale was very successful. Thank you to everyone who donated plants, who volunteered and helped with preparations, who promoted the sale, and who worked and shopped at the sale. Of course, a VERY special thank you to my plant sale committee partners. You continue to amaze me with your seemingly tireless energy, creativity, problem-solving skills, and dedication. We have the biggest and best sale in the state because of all of you and our tremendous member support.

Work for sale number 24 has already begun. We are currently doing jumping worm inspections for anyone who is planning to donate plants or host a Pot-A-Thon. If you know of anyone (doesn't have to be a MGV) who has plants that could be donated, contact Patty Witt (pattywitt8@gmail.com) immediately to get on the list for inspection. We can't have a sale without plants, so please consider giving what you can – 5 clumps or 25 clumps. And don't forget to support us by ordering from Brent and Becky's Bulbs "Bloomin' Bucks" fund raising program.

Supporting Our Gardens

by MGV Jennifer Lazewski, Chairperson

Many thanks to all the MGVs and trainees who have been working hard in our approved gardens to catch up after the slow start to the growing season! The gardens looked great in time for peak summer blooming--and visits from the Garden Support Committee (GSC).

SEWMG sponsors and maintains over thirty approved garden projects in our two counties and GSC members visit approved gardens to answer questions from garden co-chairs and to provide information on resources available to assist each garden in meeting the standards of a UW-Extension project. As in the past, dedicated committee members have been going out in teams to visit about one-third of the approved gardens, including youth gardens this year. GSC members saw the inspiring new educational signs, ideas and plantings done in the gardens and have come away with new ideas to share with others.

Some of our gardens have also been involved in community garden tours and events. The Eble Park gardens helped celebrate the start of summer with a beer garden opening Memorial Day weekend. The Greendale School Garden was in the community's garden walk for the first time. The North Point Lighthouse was in the east side garden tour and MGVs helped celebrate the Dousman Stagecoach Inn's 175th Anniversary.

The Garden Support Committee also developed suggestions for jumping worm issues, helped garden chairpersons who requested assistance, continued to work on new educational signs, and soon will start planning for next year's Volunteer Opportunity Fair. We hope some of you will join us as we start working on the new 2019 season!

Brent and Becky's Bulbs Fund Raiser

by MGV Diane Thieme

SouthEast Wisconsin Master Gardeners have partnered with Brent and Becky's Bulbs in a fund-raising effort called "Bloomin' Bucks." For every sale credited to SEWMG, a donation equal to 25% of the sale will be donated back to us. Brent and Becky's is a very reputable, established grower that has a huge selection of outstanding quality fall and spring bulbs, perennials, and garden items. Bulbs are sold at the appropriate time of the seasons. Check their website now for fall season bulb planting and, again, in early spring for summer planting bulbs and plants. The process for ordering and getting the SEWMG credit donation is quite simple. Go to www.bloominbucks.com.

Scroll down and select "SouthEast Wisconsin Master Gardeners" from the list of organizations. Hit "Go" which sends you to a reminder page. Read it and click "Yes". That will take you to the website for all of the shopping fun. You can also place your order by phone at 1-877-661-2852. Brent and Becky's will send a check to SEWMG each winter and summer, as long as we place a minimum of $100 in orders. So, visit the website, follow the steps above, and shop, shop, shop!!!

Gathering to Learn

by MGV Rita Piper, In House Education Committee Chairperson

The registration links will be sent via e-mail 3-4 weeks prior to these upcoming programs. You must register to attend the programs, which are open only to SEWMG and MGs in-training. There is no cost for the programs and all qualify for continuing education hours.

Thursday, September 6 6:30 – 8:00 p.m. New Berlin Library Moss Gardening presented by Dale Sievert

Dale's presentation includes over 150 photos of moss gardens in Japan, Japanese gardens in the US, and his amazing moss garden. Dale will show what is possible when gardening with mosses including the technical aspects of working with moss, as well as techniques for growing mosses.

Saturday, October 13 10:00 - 11:30 a.m. Boerner Botanical Garden

Invasive Plants presented by Mary Bartkowiak, Invasive Species Outreach Coordinator - Bureau of Natural Heritage Conservation, Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources. Mary's presentation will focus on invasives in the marketplace (aka Organisms in Trade) and an overview of the NR 40 invasive species rule.

Thursday, November 1 4:00 - 6:30 p.m. or Sunday, November 4 2:00 - 4:30 p.m. UWM Green House UWM Green House Tour/Plant Propagation; Paul Engevoid, UWM Greenhouse Manager

Two sessions each accommodating only 25 people

Both sessions will include a session on propagation and a walking tour of the UWM Academic Green House. Since there are no seats in the greenhouses, all participants must be able to walk and stand for over an hour to attend these sessions. Please wear appropriate footwear for walking on damp floors.

One of the most rewarding aspects of gardening is 'creating' additional plants to share with others. Join this interactive, hands-on workshop and learn how to successfully asexually propagate some of your favorite plants at home. Following the discussion, tour the greenhouse and take home a few plants!

Volunteer Updates

by MGV Laura Herzog, UWEX SEWMG Volunteer Coordinator

The SE Wisconsin Master Gardener group (SEWMG) has accomplished a lot in the past few months. We have reached a broad spectrum of the community and have continued to promote gardening, maintain our approved gardens, and enhance the public's gardening skills. From the east side in Milwaukee to Waukesha, from Port Washington to Mukwonago, we have touched the lives of children and adults, teaching garden safety skills, pollinator conservation, vegetable gardening, invasive species identification, composting, container gardening, rain garden design, seed saving, perennial gardening, gardening with native plants and plant health.

We did seven presentations on container gardening alone, while our Lifelong Gardening group's wonderful reputation puts its presentations in high demand. Our SEWMG pollinator group is very active and continues to promote conservation by offering many volunteer and educational opportunities. We have participated in local farmer's markets sharing information and resources and have provided garden mentoring for both children and adults. We even assisted a Girl Scout troop in designing a meditation garden. Children were introduced to botany and pollinator gardening as they learned about the basic plant parts during a school's "High Interest Days" and we taught children gardening while their parents attended classes on lead contamination in the soil. Our SEWMG volunteers have also staffed numerous booths at garden walks, nature centers and at various events.

I have received numerous compliments from the community for your efforts. Here is just one example:

"Jeff was a wonderful presenter. His presentation on perennial gardening and what he does to make his garden look great was thoroughly enjoyed by all who attended the program. They asked a lot of questions and he gave great answers and suggestions on different techniques to make your garden an inviting place and a work of art. I typically ask for feedback from the patrons that attend the program, and all gave great reviews on him and want more. I would be happy to have him come present again at the Greendale Public Library. Thank you again for being able to get me in contact with him. I will definitely be looking into contacting a Master Gardener again for a program."

We have also established wonderful relationships with organizations that have requested presentations this fall and winter extending into 2019! For example, Tippecanoe Library has presentations scheduled for October 8 on "Winterizing Your Yard and Garden" and December 10 "Backyard Birds." ProHealth Care Waukesha has speakers scheduled for May through October on a variety of subjects.

The community really appreciates our expertise and is impressed by our continued dedication to beautifying our public spaces and educating the public. Let's strive to keep up the good work!

Waukesha County Fair

Plant Health Advising Provides Valuable Service

by Susan Taylor, Diagnostic Services Coordinator

Master Gardener Volunteers who do Plant Health Advising in Milwaukee and Waukesha Counties have been busy this season with various types of requests. Both county Horticulture Helplines continue to receive calls about Emerald Ash Borer. Unfortunately, most calls to Milwaukee County were questions about how to remove and dispose of the dying trees. The Wisconsin Fact Sheet "Is my Ash Tree Worth Treating for Emerald Ash Borer? XHT1215" recommends you check with your municipality for their wood disposal program. The Wisconsin Arborists Association <http://www.waa-isa.org> is a source for locating certified arborists to professionally remove trees.

Both counties have also answered numerous calls for plant and bug identification. When it is a bug causing damage or a weed invading the lawn/garden, MGVs provide advice on control, starting with cultural methods, organic options, and finally chemicals if warranted to address the issue. Questions about lawn care and browning of conifer needles are also similar in both counties.

The Milwaukee County Horticulture Helplines (Boerner and Milwaukee County UWEX) have seen an increase in the number of new homeowners e-mailing pictures of plants, trees and shrubs growing in their yards asking if they are OK for landscaping or if they are weeds. Requests for pruning and soil testing information are frequent. Wisconsin's soil testing lab is located in Marshfield. Callers are referred to their website which provides all the information about how to take a sample and package it as well as the Submission Form and fee schedule. <http://uwlab.soils.wisc.edu>

The Waukesha County Horticulture Helpline has been receiving a large volume of calls about Viburnum Leaf Beetle. These beetles are showing up all over the county. Callers have been directed to the UW-Extension Fact Sheet (XHT1260) on this topic. In late spring and early summer, MGVs received a lot of calls about roses that had died or were stunted. MGVs advised callers that this past fall, winter, and spring had been very hard on the roses, but give them time to come up before pulling them out and starting over.

MGVs staffing the horticulture helplines in both counties continue to keep busy. Calls are many and topics vary. We urge those who call or e-mail our Horticulture Helpline to get scientific, education-based information when doing an internet search by adding the words site:.edu after the search topic. This is also a great reminder to all of us!

Being Involved - SEWMG FAQs

Since January, you've heard about SEWMGs many committees: Plant Sale, Garden Support, Lifelong Gardening, In-House Programs, Trips and Tours and others. You haven't heard much about the SEWMGs Board of Directors.

Our organization is kept strong by the Board of Directors. Many positions have a one-year term. The positions are secretary, treasurer, president-elect, president, chairman of the board, second-year board member, first-year board member and two at-large board members.

We encourage longer terms for the treasurer, the first-, second-, third-year board members and president-elect because the organizational knowledge and experience gained is cumulative. MGVs may serve as a board member for three consecutive years. They may re-join the board after taking one or more years off.

All it takes is an interest in leadership, a familiarity with SEWMG Bylaws, and a desire to serve. How does someone join the board? Let the Leadership Committee know – a committee member will be able to give more details about each position.

Board members are elected at our annual meeting in December.

MGVs @ Speakers Workshop

by MGVs Laurie Baker and Jeff Trader

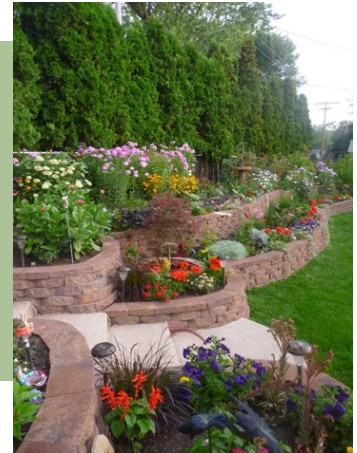

On April 21 at the New Berlin Library, MGVs Jeff Trader and Laurie Baker presented a Speakers Workshop for 27 MGVs who were eager to join the forces of SEWMG's mission to enhance the education of others. An opening slide featured pictures of Jeff's and Laurie's gardens. The audience was prompted to guess whose garden was pictured in each photo.

Jeff Trader has been a master gardener for over 15 years. He has designed his home garden to encourage a visitor to sit, relax and enjoy! He often opens his gardens to all who attend the SEWMG summer picnic. His gardens delight visitors from early spring throughout the fall. Jeff's SEWMG presentations on Designing Perennial Gardens have been well received by numerous garden clubs and other public groups including home and garden shows.

Laurie Baker has been a master gardener since 2009. She has 18 flower gardens, including a double retaining wall garden in her backyard. Laurie has been a member of Toastmasters International for twenty years, often assuming a leadership role in the organization. She is a member of four clubs where the members work on their communication skills.

"The Speakers Workshop covered many topics aimed at helping others become comfortable in delivering information to the public ...The audience was encouraged to ask questions throughout the presentation. It was a fantastic group that consisted of experienced speakers and newly-trained MGVs."

The Speakers Workshop covered many topics aimed at helping others become comfortable in delivering information to the public. It covered presentation pointers, public speaker tips, effective and efficient use of AV equipment and other methods to boost confidence in public speaking for MGV speakers. Jeff and Laurie covered high-tech presentations with laptop computers and projectors, as well as low-tech presentations using flip charts.

The audience was encouraged to ask questions throughout the presentation. It was a fantastic group that consisted of experienced speakers and newly-trained MGVs.

After the PowerPoint presentation, Jeff and Laurie split the group to demonstrate how to set up the laptop and projectors, so the group members would be more comfortable giving their future presentations. All found that very helpful.

A special thanks goes to new MGV Cathy Demsey for helping with registration and welcoming the guests!

Many, Many Thanks, Faouzi

MGV Faouzi Kablaoui just announced his retirement from coordinating the spring Realtors Home Show and the Wisconsin State Fair each August.

Behind the scenes, Faouzi has worked with the event sponsors, arranged for booth space, determined that our electrical and other needs were covered, and that MGVs transported all the materials to the event. At the Realtors Home Show, he also made sure the stage was set. He would check to see that the carpeting was in place, temporary walls were erected, and the display layout was complete. Once the event ended, he made certain that the display was taken down and everything was transported back to its proper place.

During his seventeen-year run, Faouzi has scheduled thousands of master gardeners to staff different shifts. He purchased and mailed admission tickets for each volunteer and ensured that an adequate supply of UWEX literature was on hand during each day of the events. One last step was to compile the shift reports about numbers of visitors and extension literature distributed, along with overall impressions of the booth and highlights.

We greatly appreciate Faouzi's long-standing commitment to the many details surrounding our twice-annual events.

Annual Reports & Budget Requests Deadline

by MGV Tom Paasch, SEWMG Board Chairman, Finance Committee Chair

With the beginning of fall, the preparation of the annual SEWMG Budget also begins. That means it is time for garden chairs to submit:

the 'Garden Project Annual Report' for 2018, and your 'Budget Request' for 2019.

These forms are due no later than September 15, 2018.

Hardcopies of the 'Garden Project Annual Report' and the 'Budget Request' should be mailed to:

SEWMG Finance Committee
UWEX Office
6737 W. Washington – Suite 2202
West Allis, WI 53214

Please do not combine these forms in the same envelope as your report of volunteer and education hours.

The Annual Report form is required to retain approved project status for volunteer service hours. The Budget Request form is used to allocate requested funds to approved projects in the next year.

The Finance Committee will present the 2019 Budget at a special meeting in November. All SEWMG MGVs will be invited to attend. We will review and discuss the version prepared by the Finance Committee and call for a vote. The final vote to accept the 2019 Budget occurs at the Annual Meeting in December.

It is also important to have all reimbursement requests submitted to our Treasurer, Pat Conole. Please submit those requests as the expenses are incurred, rather than waiting for the September 15 deadline when the Annual Report and the Budget Requests are due.

"The Garden Project Annual Report form is required to retain approved project status for volunteer service hours. The Budget Request form is used to allocate requested funds to approved projects in the next year. These forms are due no later than September 15, 2018."

The President's Corner

by MGV Rodger Kocher

I hope everyone's garden is doing well. We had a bit of a hot spell, but the weather seems to be cooling down a bit. I am waiting see the heirloom tomatoes planted at the Fox6 garden. So far, the garden has had a great harvest with our vegetables going to The Grand Avenue Club downtown. Our next monthly meetings will be at the UW-Extension Office/Waukesha on September 12; and the UW-Extension Office/Milwaukee on October 10. I hope to see some new faces at the Milwaukee County Extension! It's a large room located on the first floor. Directions and parking information will be sent out before that meeting.

A Little Bit of Housekeeping:

1. Another reminder that your timesheet for your volunteer service hours and your 10 hours of continuing education are due September 15. Remember the UW-Extension Office has moved:

SEWMG
UW-Extension, Suite 2202
6737 W. Washington St.
West Allis, WI 53214

2. Garden and project chairs –

Please be sure that you submit your reimbursement requests well before September 15. Mail these requests directly to our SEWMG Treasurer, Pat Conole. The Finance committee will consider this year's expenses when reviewing your 2019 budget request.

Annual reports and 2019 budget requests are due September 15. Mail them to the UW-Extension Office.

Do not mail your timesheet with these documents.

Check the website for more information.

3. The Wisconsin Master Gardener Association (WIMGA) Conference will be in Eau Claire on September 21 & 22.

County Extension Offices News

by Ann Wied, UWEX Waukesha County Consumer Horticulture Educator

SEWMGVs at the State Fair

A big thank you to all who volunteered for the SEWMG exhibit at the State Fair. From the beginning to the end, there were many people involved in tasks including copying handouts, preparing gardens, mailing tickets and volunteering at the State Fair. A BIG thank you to Faouzi Kablaoui for his dedication to this project for many, many years! We are considering making this HUGE effort into a committee-driven project that would involve the garden, volunteer schedule, handouts, shift captains, mailing, etc. Watch for an e-mail recruiting volunteers for this committee in fall or winter.

New Level 1 Training to Begin in September

Registration for our new crop of master gardener volunteers began in early August with spaces for 75 participants. You may be asking - what only 75? Yes! You heard that right. With Sharon's replacement still not hired, we decided to hold only one class of Level 1 training this fall. It will be held on Monday nights at Boerner. We chose an evening training because it would accommodate most people's schedules.

Patti Nagai, retired Racine County UW-Extension horticulture educator, will be working with me (Ann Wied) to teach training and facilitate the program. I am happy that I have the help. If you hear grumblings from family and friends who wanted to take the training but could not get in the program due to limited space, share my apologies. Please explain that, due to staff vacancy, we could not offer two sessions.

Annual Reports and Budget Requests Due September 15

Approved Garden Projects must submit an annual report and budget request if they want to receive funding from SEWMGs in 2019. Find the forms and directions at <https://fyi.uwex.edu/sewmg/approved-garden-projects/> Other projects and committees should inquire as to what reports need to accompany budget requests. Not sure who to ask? A place to start might be the SEWMG treasurer – Pat Conole or Board Chairman - Tom Paasch.

Update on Sharon's Replacement

There is no news to report on regarding the hiring of Sharon's replacement. Meetings are being planned for early fall to discuss the needs for Horticulture Educators in southeast Wisconsin and in Wisconsin overall. This is a good start. Let's be hopeful! When I know more, I will share it! In the meantime, the plan is for me to continue with my additional responsibilities with the UW-Extension Master Gardener Program in Milwaukee and Waukesha Counties through the end of the year. Feel free to contact me if you have questions or concerns (262-548-7788 or awied@waukeshacounty.gov).

UW-Extension is Now a Division of UW-Madison

It's official! As of July 1, UW-Extension is now a division of UW-Madison. Any changes will most likely be gradual. You will probably not notice anything different. We (UW-Extension and the master gardeners) have been already connected to UW-Madison in many ways. For example, most of the State Specialists that we use for training presentations are affiliated with UW-Madison. Also, most of our Hort Fact Sheets and publications are written by professors or staff at UW-Madison. Being connected to UW-Madison is a good thing because it is a prestigious university.

It happens every year

The timesheet deadline is September 15.
Plan now to earn your volunteer and education hours.
Follow it through.

Short on Hours - Here are some options

How can I earn volunteer service hours now?

Harvest produce at our vegetable gardens
Help at the Milwaukee County Extension Office
Greet MGVs at In-House Programs
Help school gardens get ready for opening day

How can I earn continuing education hours?

Listen to "Garden Talk" podcasts on WPR
Read Plants Plus articles (on the web) and take the quiz
Attend educational programs
Take a guided garden tour at Boerner Botanical Gardens

Membership Dues

by Patty Witt, Membership Chairperson

It's time again for all MGVs to pay their annual dues for 2019. Dues should be paid by November 1, 2018, so please use the form below to submit your dues. Remember, if your dues are not paid for next year, you will not be able to attend the Annual Meeting/Holiday Party in December.

Happy fall to everyone.
