During the Fair

1. Each exhibitor is responsible for personally feeding, caring and fitting his/her animal(s) throughout the fair beginning with weigh-in and ending on the final day of the fair. Immediate family members, other junior fair exhibitors, 4-H and FFA leaders and designated mentors are allowed to assist the exhibitor but should not be the primary animal caregiver.
2. Animals must be fed and watered and pens cleaned by 10 am daily. Exhibitors must continue to maintain the pens/stalls and ensure animal well-being throughout the day. Wet and soiled bedding should be removed daily and replaced. The Livestock Committee will assess exhibitors a fee to care for unattended animals.
3. Only sawdust can be used in the Swine Barn.
4. No automatic waterers can be used in the swine barn.
5. Each club/chapter and other junior fair groups with members in the livestock projects will be required to work at the fair. Duties will be posted on a work schedule in the Coliseum at the fair. Duties may include, but are not limited to, set-up and take down of show rings and sale ring work. If a club/chapter or group is interested in a certain work time or job assignment, please contact the Extension Shawano County Office by July 1. (Working in the 4-H food stand or set up or take down days does not count.)
6. Sick or injured animals condemned/excused by Fair Officials, the Fair Veterinarian, or other state official must be removed immediately according to state guidelines. Animals remain the financial responsibility of the exhibitor.
7. Drug and/or DNA testing may be conducted on any animal while on the fairgrounds or at market. Random DNA samples will be collected from a number of animals of each species at the Fair. DNA results will be compared to submitted samples for the individual animals. If DNA samples do not match, the exhibitor will be barred from exhibiting and selling an animal in the auction the following year. In addition, if an animal with non-matching DNA was sold through the auction, the exhibitor will forfeit their auction check and will be paid market value for the animal. Animals will be checked for drug residues and/or DNA at the discretion of the Judge, Fair Veterinarian, Ag Society or Livestock Key Committee. Exhibitors must abide by drug label withdrawal times. The cost of a positive drug test will be the responsibility of the exhibitor.
8. All animals are subject to examination by the Judge, Fair Veterinarian, Ag Society or Livestock Key Committee for any violations of the IAFE National Code of Show Ring Ethics.
9. Requests for DNA sampling of animals will be evaluated by the Livestock Key Committee. If DNA is collected and samples match, the requestor will pay a $100 administrative and testing fee. If DNA is collected and the samples do not match, the exhibitor will pay a $100 administrative and testing fee. In addition, the exhibitor will be barred from exhibiting and selling an animal in the auction the following year. If an animal with non-matching DNA was sold through the auction, the exhibitor will forfeit their auction check and will be paid market value for the animal.
10. If your animal is chosen for a DNA sample, you have the right to be present during the sampling.

Buyers wishing to send animals to plants other than the designated must furnish their own transportation. Alternate transportation to processing plants must be approved by species superintendents. Market animals going to processing will be released at approximately 4 pm on Monday.
5. After the auction, exhibitors must compose an appropriate letter of appreciation to the buyer of their animal. Letters must be submitted in a non-sealed, stamped envelope addressed to the buyer.
