I went out and was by a lake. It was very quiet and peaceful. There were fish swimming around and algae growing. I saw nature, life. I heard grasshoppers, water flowing, and peace of animals and nature. I could feel the bark rotting away. I didn't and would not taste anything. Then I went to our home garden. I could smell the flowers, see the fruits and veggies growing. I soon could taste that glory. I felt nice silky flowers. It's amazing how nature can be a thing in our world.
