Dear Sir or Madam:

We have considered your application for a group exemption letter recognizing your subordinates as exempt from federal income tax under section 501(a) of the Internal Revenue Code as organizations of the type described in section 501(c)(3).

Our records show that you are a state instrumentality.

Subordinates' Tax-Exempt Status

Based on information you supplied, we recognize your subordinates whose names appear on the list you submitted as exempt from federal income tax under section 501(c)(3) of the Code on the date listed above. If a subordinate later decides to seek an IRS letter recognizing its own individual tax exemption, it will have to apply for recognition of exemption by submitting a Form 1023.

Additionally, we have classified your subordinates that you operate, supervise, or control as organizations that are not private foundations because they are organizations of the type described in sections 509(a)(1) and 170(b)(1)(A)(vi) of the Code.

Donors may deduct contributions to your subordinates as provided in section 170 of the Code. Bequests, legacies, devises, transfers, or gifts to your subordinates or for their use are deductible for federal estate and gift tax purposes if they meet the applicable provisions of section 2055, 2106, and 2522 of the Code.

Annual Filing Requirements

Your subordinates are required to file annual informational returns with the IRS. The type of return a subordinate must file is based upon its annual gross receipts. If a subordinate's gross receipts average $50,000 or less for a given tax year and its two prior tax years, the subordinate must file an annual electronic notice, Form 990-N, unless it chooses to file Form 990 or 990-EZ for that tax year.

If a subordinate's annual gross receipts average more than $50,000, it is required to file either Form 990, Return of Organization Exempt From Income Tax, or Form 990-EZ, Short Form Return of Organization

Board of Regents of the University of Wisconsin System

Exempt From Income Tax, by the 15th day of the fifth month after the end of its annual accounting period.

If you prefer, you may file a Form 990 group return for those subordinates that authorize you in writing to include them in that return for a given tax year. Organizations included in a group return for a given tax year are not required to file a separate Form 990-series return or notice for that tax year. If you are required to file Form 990 for your own activities, you must file a separate return and may not be included on any group return that you file for your subordinates.

The law imposes a penalty of $20 a day when a return is filed late, unless there is reasonable cause for the delay. However, the maximum penalty imposed cannot exceed $10,000 or 5 percent of gross receipts for the year, whichever is less. For organizations with gross receipts exceeding $1,000,000 in any year, the penalty is $100 per day per return, unless there is reasonable cause for the delay. The maximum penalty for an organization with gross receipts exceeding $1,000,000 shall not exceed $50,000. This penalty may also be charged if a return is not complete, so your subordinates should make sure their returns are complete before filing them.

Your subordinates are required to make their annual information return, Form 990 or Form 990-EZ, available for public inspection for three years after the later of the due date of the return or the date the return is filed. You and your subordinates are also required to make available for public inspection your group exemption application, any supporting documents and this exemption letter. Copies of these documents are also required to be provided to any individual upon written or in person request without charge other than reasonable fees for copying and postage. You may fulfill this requirement by placing these documents on the Internet. Penalties may be imposed for failure to comply with these requirements. Additional information is available in Publication 557, Tax-Exempt Status for Your Organization, or you may call our toll free number shown above.

Federal Income Tax Returns

Your subordinates are not required to file federal income tax returns unless subject to the tax on unrelated business income under section 511 of the Code. Each organization subject to this tax must file Form 990-T, Exempt Organization Business Income Tax Return. In this letter we are not determining whether any of your subordinates' present or proposed activities are unrelated trade or business as defined in section 513 of the Code.

As of January 1, 1984, each of your subordinates is liable for social security (FICA) taxes for each employee to whom the subordinate paid $100 or more during a calendar year. This does not apply, however, to any subordinate that makes or has made a timely election under section 3121(w) of the Code to be exempt from such tax. Your subordinates are not liable for tax imposed under the Federal Unemployment Tax Act (FUTA).
